JOB SITUATION IN COUNTY, CITY LESS BRIGHT THAN BEFORE

MORE UNEMPLOYMENT, FEW WORKERS SOUGHT, SAYS T.E.C. REPORT

Rather bright employment figures which have prevailed for the last three months faded in November and brought signs of a general leveling off in jobs in several types of activity, according to the monthly labor report of W. B. Reedy, manager of the Corsicana office of Texas Employment Service.

According to Reedy's report the excellent pattern of September and October, when total employment reached the highest figure of the year, was reversed to some extent. Indicative of a lull was the building and construction trades—project completions were taking a toll. Highway and road job completions coupled with near completion of the Texas-Miller Products, Inc.'s new plant, the IOOF building program and several other local projects brought about a definite increase in available workers for the line of labor, Reedy said.

Job-Seekers Increase

Total applications for work—always a good barometer as to conditions—reached 138, including 47 veterans of World War II. This compared with a total of 56, including only 19 veterans, during October. New claims for state unemployment benefits and soldiers' readjustment allowances increased only slightly over October despite the apparent jump in unemployment.

"Weather conditions during the latter part of November, and the near completion of crop harvesting in the county, contributed most to the current employment picture, although it is noted that many of the new applicants for work have been employed in other sectors," Reedy said.

No Major Layoffs

There were no layoffs of any consequence and the wholesale and retail trades continued to provide "above normal" employment. The latter category, in many instances, is planning to supplement present staffs with extra employees during the holiday shopping season.

During November calls for workers ranged from baby sitters to turkey pickers, from a Santa Claus to a music teacher. During the month 161 people were placed on jobs through the local office, while 177 claimants for unemployment.

Man Who Burned Down Building To Spite Wife Sought

BYRDS, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Charges of arson were being prepared today against a 38-year-old man who last night burned down a country store, postoffice, and a nearby residence because his estranged wife would not meet him at the store. Postal authorities, Texas Rangers, and county officers were investigating the case.

Deputy Sheriff Otis Rodgers said last night that he was told the fire was started by an inmate man estranged from his wife. The man appeared at the general store here and sent word to his wife, at a nearby house, that unless she appeared within 30 minutes he would set fire to the store.

Not Apprehended

She didn't come, Rodgers said, and the man sprinkled kerosene on the store and postoffice then tossed on a lighted match. The deputy said the man left with a neighbor and headed for Brownwood. Late last night he had not been apprehended.

Officers said the couple had been separated about a month. The husband, Rodgers said, had been restrained by court order from seeing the woman.

Jones Wins Appeal Of Tax Conviction

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The Fifth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals today reversed the conviction of former Assistant U. S. Attorney Joe H. Jones on charges of attempting to evade income taxes and remanded the case.

Jones had appealed from the federal district court of Northern Texas where he was assistant attorney from 1935 to 1945. He was convicted on four counts of an indictment charging willfully attempting to evade income taxes for 1942 and 1943. Jones urged that the judgment be reversed and the case dismissed or remanded for new trial.

The appellate court, in an opinion written by Circuit Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, said that while it could not agree with Jones that "the evidence demanded the direction of a verdict in his favor, we do agree with him that the trial was attended with error, resulting so greatly to his prejudice that the judgment must be reversed and the case remanded for trial anew."

Aid Profiting Charged

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—A wrangle developed in the house banking committee today as Democratic members challenged inquiries by Rep. Smith (R-Ohio) on whether citizens who served on the Harriman foreign aid committee could not profit personally by relief shipments.

The incident arose as Smith questioned Secretary of Commerce Harriman whether a steel executive, who served on the committee, and Randolph Burgess, New York banker, might profit if the long-range Marshall Plan for European aid is approved.

The steel executive was not named.

Reps. Patman (D-Tex) and Monroney (D-Okla) protested, saying Smith's questions impugned the motives of prominent persons not then before the committee which is holding hearings on President Truman's proposals for domestic cost-of-living curbs.

Harriman told Smith that "It is very unfair to question what conceivable ulterior motives these men had in serving on the (Harriman) committee. They gave their efforts for the good of their country and in the interest of the people of the United States."

Monroney remarked that such procedures would discourage prompt action.

General Rain, Few Storms Reported Texas Last Night

By The Associated Press.

Clear to partly cloudy weather prevailed over Texas today following general rains last night.

Rains were reported from the Panhandle, and from East, West, North, South and Central Texas. Beneficial precipitation came to the Panhandle westlands and the West Texas farm and ranch country.

Windstorms hit Abilene, Graham, Albany and Dallas.

At Abilene, the rainfall was 1.43 inches and at Big Spring, 1.17. Precipitation at Amarillo measured .33 of an inch.

Other measurements included: Galveston, 1.71; Dallas, .87; Fort Worth, 1.71; Del Rio, .20; Waco, .90; San Antonio, .14, and Corpus Christi, .04.

Rains also were reported at Wichita Falls, Stamford, Electric, Merkel, Winters, Hollinger, Baird, Trent and Sweetwater.

At Graham, winds ripped the roof off the Shawnee elementary school, uprooted trees and blacked out the city by damaging the electrical system.

"Wind also picked up the power system at Albany. A 50-mile per hour wind did no damage at Abilene."

Local District Is Made No. 9 In New Football Grouping

AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Interscholastic League Director Roy Bedichek today announced the full tentative grouping of conference AA football schools for 1948.

A last-minute change added Cisco and Stephenville to District TAA. Bedichek said other changes might be made, and that the league's final list would be issued in January.

Here is the tentative AA groupings:

1. Amarillo, Borger, Brownfield, Lubbock,ampa, Plainview, Wichita Falls.
2. Abilene, Big Spring, Lamesa, Midland, Odessa, San Angelo, Sweetwater.
3. Austin (El Paso), Bowie (El Paso), Yoleta.
4. Bonham, Denison, Gainesville, Greenville, Paris, Sherman.
5. Denton, Grand Prairie, Highland Park (Dallas), McKinney, Sulphur Springs.
6. Breckenridge, Brownwood.

Texas Masons End Meeting In Waco With Elections

WACO, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The 112th communication of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas was to end here today with the election and installation of officers.

Horece K. Jackson of Gatesville, deputy Grand Master, was in line for leadership of Texas Masons, succeeding the Rev. R. Bruce Brannon of Commerce.

Other new officers scheduled for election include Hugh M. Craig of Fort Worth, grand senior

Grand Jury Begins Investigation Of Hollywood Group

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—A federal grand jury today began investigating the cases against 10 Hollywood movie directors and writers cited for contempt of Congress because they refused to say whether they are Communists.

The contempt citations, voted by the house, resulted from the recent investigation of Communism in Hollywood by the house committee on un-American activities.

Robert E. Stripling, the committee's chief investigator, was the first witness as U. S. Attorney George Morris Fay and an assistant, William Hitz, presented the cases to the 23-man grand jury.

Nazis Convicted Of War Crimes

MUENBERG, Germany, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Ten former state secretaries, prosecutors and judges in Hitler's ministry of justice were convicted today on war crimes charges. Four others were acquitted.

Sentences of those convicted, which may be death, will be announced later.

Ernst Lautz, chief prosecutor in the notorious People's Court of Berlin, which tried treason cases, was convicted for handling the cases of foreigners under Hitler's "night and fog" decree and perverting the laws of treason to the Nazi program for extermination of Poles. The "night and fog" decree was directed at suppressing resistance to the Nazis in occupied countries by spiriting civilians into Germany for secret trial.

The three-man court was made up of Judges James T. Brand of Salem, Ore.; Malory B. Blair of Austin, Tex.; and Justin W. Harding of Franklin, Ohio.

Taft-Hartley Law Stirs New Praise, Attacks, Lawsuits

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The Taft-Hartley labor law stirred new praise and new fury today—and a rash of new rulings and lawsuits.

Senator Ball (R-Minn) chairman of the congressional "watch dog" committee said that it is "working out far better than even its most optimistic supporters had hoped."

He said the "hysterical charges" of union leaders last summer have been disproved.

But CIO President Philip Murray said: "events which have already transpired, unfortunately, are eloquent proof in support of the predictions made by labor when this vicious law was under consideration."

Murray, in a letter to AFL President William Green, called for joint CIO-AFL action on the grounds that (a) employers are seeking to use the act "as a weapon against the living standards of the workers" and (b) the National Labor Relations Board and its agents are helping them.

AFL, however, made clear that it has no intention of retreating from its long-standing position: That joint action by the two labor groups can be brought about only through physical merger.

A spokesman for Green reiterated that stand even as Green was assembling his 13-man executive council for all day session to lay plans for the AFL's new political arm.

Through this organization—to be called "Labor's Educational and Political League"—the AFL will try to defeat congressmen who voted for the Taft-Hartley law.

Representatives of AFL unions—numbering 195—will meet here tomorrow on the same subject.

American Defense Pact Sent Senate For Ratification

REDS SAID "WAGING ALL BUT SHOOTING WAR" AGAINST U.S.

SUPPORTERS ADVOCATE QUICK AID ACTION; OPPOSITION VOICED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Asserting that Russia "is waging everything but a shooting war against us," Representative Cox (D-Ga) told the house today it must approve foreign aid "as an investment in national security."

The Georgian gained the floor soon after the house began debate on the $500,000,000 emergency aid measure for Austria, France, Italy and China.

On the opposition side, Rep. Leo Allen (R-Ill) raised a question whether a Europe strengthened with American help might not go communist in any event with the result that "all we give in the way of aid may eventually be used against us in one way or another."

Senate Hearing Geared.

While the house debate went on, the senate appropriations committee was exploring that same question asked by Allen.

The senate group had Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett before it. He assured the members that emergency help for France, Italy and Austria can be cut off if Communists seize control of those governments.

Allen asked his colleagues to vote down the $500,000,000 aid recommended by the house foreign affairs committee lest "the industrial plants built with our money x x be used to manufacture the implements of war for Russia to use against us."

The house committee's bill provides for aid to China as well as France, Italy and Austria.

In summary, the situation on the aid proposal is this:

The senate-passed bill simply approves the idea of aid up to $500,000,000 and the house is now debating the general proposition. If the two bodies eventually get together on legislation approving the idea, separate bills still will have to be passed appropriating money for the program.

The senate appropriations committee had Lovett before it in connection with the bill.

CASUALTIES MOUNTING IN PALESTINE

By The Associated Press

The death toll mounted today in Palestine's civil strife as an Arab strike protesting partition went through its third and last day. New disorders broke out elsewhere in the Arab world, even as appeals were made by both Arabs and Jews for a halt to the violence.

A violent highway battle raged in the Arab town of Ramle, midway between Jerusalem and Tel Aviv. It was touched off when an Arab mob attacked Jewish buses being conveyed by armored police cars. Many were reported injured.

"Fighting is raging in the streets," said Associated Press Correspondent Carter L. Davidson in a telephone report from the scene. "The roads are impassable because of roadblocks, stones and damaged cars. All traffic is stopped."

Other Outbreaks Reported.

While both Arab and Jewish leaders pleaded for a halt to the wave of violence in the Middle East, other outbreaks were reported. In Baghdad, Iraq, a mob of demonstrators set fire to the U. S. information office. Egypt banned public demonstrations after violence by a mob of 15,000. A bomb exploded in the Jewish quarter of Beirut, Lebanon.

An Associated Press compilation for the three days of rioting throughout Palestine showed 31 dead—15 Arabs and 16 Jews—with the Arabs' strike protesting partition in its third and last day. Hundreds have been injured.

Outside battle-torn Ramle, British troops were turning back traffic from Jerusalem. Inside the city, Davidson reported the new rioting was touched off when two Jewish bus convoys, led by armored police cars, were attacked by Arab mobs. Fighters of Haganah, the underground Jewish militia, drove off the attackers, wounding at least four Arabs. Three Jewish passengers in one convoy were injured in an initial attack by the mob. A second wave came soon afterward.

AP Car Struck.

Unofficial reports from the city said a bomb tossed from a Jewish taxi wounded 20 Arabs. The AP car was struck by one of a volley of 15 bullets, and the Arab driver was wounded in the leg. Davidson suffered a bruise on one heel.

British security forces were alerted for 24-hour duty. The Tel Aviv-Jaffa market area now is occupied by troops.

An Arab was killed and several Jews and Arabs were wounded in renewed fighting in the northern land between all-Arab Jaffa and all-Jewish Tel Aviv. A Jewish factory worker was reported shot to death by police in the Jaffa sector. A Jewish truck driver died of knife wounds sustained in yesterday's Jerusalem fighting, and the slashed body of another Jew

MARSHALL DENOUNCES RUSSIAN OPPOSITION TO EUROPE RECOVERY

MOLOTOV SAYS OTHER BIG 3 TRY TO ENSLAVE AUSTRIA WITH RELIEF

LONDON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall, speaking in the council of foreign ministers, said tonight the Soviet Union is attempting to "disrupt the great co-operative movement that is being launched for the economic recovery of Europe."

In an acrimonious session, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov blocked any immediate agreement on an Austrian independence treaty. He accused the United States, Britain and France of trying to enslave Austria with economic aid measures.

Marshall replied with his sharp statement of this conference: "Real Purpose."

"We are all aware of the real purpose of attacks of this nature," he said. "It is to disrupt the great co-operative movement that is being launched for the economic recovery of Europe."

It was the first time the Marshall plan for European recovery was brought so directly into the discussions here on the German and Austrian treaties.

Marshall added: "Regarding a statement of the Soviet Union's beneficent purposes and actions in Austria and the American program of 'enslavement' I will only repeat my remarks of the other day—that I do not think Mr. Molotov could possibly convince me he really believes his allegations and implications."

"The distortion of United States motives just made we have all heard of many states recently that there is no foundation whatsoever for such charges."

Today's three-hour session was devoted entirely to discussion of the Austrian treaty.

No Agreement Reached.

Marshall said that the United States, France and Britain should submit to the foreign ministers council within two weeks "proposals for the fundamental of the peace treaty for Germany."

Bidault Opposes Plan.

His suggestion drew the immediate fire of French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, who said that if the four agreed to such an arrangement they might just as well adjourn the London meeting.

'Panic-Buying' In USSR Reported By Voice Of America

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Reports of "panic buying" and impending currency changes in Soviet Russia have reached Washington and been given sufficient official credence to be broadcast around the world by the government's "Voice of America" radio.

The State Department's broadcast in 23 languages last night said the wave of buying had been touched off by widespread rumors of prospective price increases and devaluation of the Russian ruble.

Heavy rains to widespread savings from banks, these reports related, have resulted in an order to limit individual withdrawals to 200 rubles daily.

These spectacular reports—coming out of Russia itself—give such a sudden new twist to the Kremlin's relations with the rest of the world that diplomats here were cautious in weighing the likely effects.

Moscow's unceasing propaganda against American plans to aid western Europe has hammered the theme that (a) the capitalist United States is headed for an inevitable depression while (b) the Soviet economy is a secured.

New Currency Due.

Detailed accounts reaching Washington said the residents of Moscow seemed to consider such true rumors that the Kremlin would decree a new currency tomorrow and that later new and higher prices would be ordered in effect.

Any scaling down of the value of the ruble or raising prices for consumer goods would be a harsh blow to savings. Together, such

Searchers Near U.S. Transport Plane Missing Since Last Friday In Europe

FRANKFURT, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Ground rescue parties battled snow, fog and dense woods today in an effort to reach the spot where an American C-47 transport plane, missing since Friday with 20 persons aboard, is believed to have crashed in rugged country in the French zone of Germany.

A 50-foot line of fire—apparently burning oil—which was observed last night by rescue aircraft approximately 15 miles northwest of Kaiserslautern, concentrated the search in that area.

Radio signals, apparently emanating from the missing plane, were reported to searchers who were on the right track but could not declare they had definitely located the plane.

Officials directing the search said they were almost certain they were on the right track but could not declare they had definitely located the plane.

French Law Outlawing Strikes Passed

PARIS, Dec. 4.—(AP)—The government, armed with a new and drastic anti-strike law, made some dents today in the Communist-propagated strikes which have virtually strangled French economy, but confronted fresh violence on the fashionable Riviera.

A mob seized the postoffice in Cannes. Another throng was driven back by rifle butts and truncheons of mobile guards at the post-office in Nice where the central labor committee called a general strike.

The government was striving to reopen struck mines. Rail traffic leaving Paris reached 80 percent of normal and some commerce was coming through the Atlantic ports.

Coast Condition Critical.

Conditions along the Mediterranean coast were so critical that trains from Paris were proceeding only as far as Lyon.

Socialist Premier Robert Schuman's cabinet considered raising salaries of public employees and the council of ministers seemed ready to approve raising minimum pay throughout France, a focal issue in the strikes led by the Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor.

The national assembly beat down Communist opposition before dawn and passed Schuman's law redefining sabotage and increasing penalties. The use of fraud, threats or violence in starting, spreading or prolonging strikes became an offense.

Some Back to Work.

In Central and Northern France, the back to work movement was gaining. Officials at Lille said only 4,000 textile workers remained on strike compared to 125,000 a few days ago.

A new syndicate of metal workers was being formed in Paris, eliminating the Communists. Several automobile factories in the capital called their employees back to work tomorrow.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Climb a flight of stairs in an elderly brick house in Greenwich Village. Open the door and you come into the home and workshop of a lady of courage.

She is Dorothy Romaine, who learned how to be an interior decorator by being a janitor.

Some years ago tragic circumstances compelled her to earn a living by taking care of two houses. Previously she had been an artist—an "artist who couldn't paint," she put it.

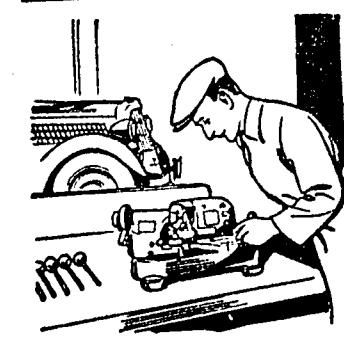

Blackest Period.

"It seemed the blackest period of my life," she said, "I had to clean rooms, scrub stairs, stoke furnaces. I was numb with endless fatigue and despair."

Troubling her spirit most was the fact her labor gave no outlet to the creative force she felt within her.

"I was an artist faced with the necessity to earn a living, yet inexorably forced to create—in some form or other," she said.

But if one channel is blocked, the creative force of an artist must find another outlet. Mrs. Romaine found hers in painting, repairing furniture and redecorating the two old houses.

Picture of Room.

"I learned I could make a picture out of a room," she said. The discovery changed her whole life, and for that she is still grateful.

"Tragedy makes you go forward," she said. "You have to—there's nothing to go back to. You have to be daring."

Little by little she tested her growing skill by redecorating the apartments of her friends. Her problem was to do this without a large expenditure of money, as her friends weren't the type who buy furniture by the vanload.

Artist Loves Challenge.

"But every artist loves a challenge," she said, "and to achieve big results with small means is thrilling."

"An artist has the strange and personal power of seeing things as a picture. When I entered a room I could see the elements that made it blurred, drab or unharmonious. But by simple changes in the juxtaposition of objects, new color patterns, redoing old pieces of furniture, choosing lovely lamps and eliminating useless and ugly things I learned to put harmony, charm and personality into a room."

"I found that beauty is not merely a matter of taste but of taste."

Specialty Chosen.

Gradually Mrs. Romaine converted this hobby into a fulltime career. She still specializes in helping people of low-budget incomes who "need beauty in their surroundings" but haven't time or talent to do their own decorating.

Her creed—taken from the New Testament—is painted over her fireplace and gives her daily comfort.

"Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

Escaped Georgia Convict Caught In Dallas Taken Back
DALLAS, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Timothy Heard Ryckley, escaped life term Georgia convict recaptured here last week, departed for Georgia today in the custody of Officer W. D. Burch. They were traveling by automobile.
Ryckley escaped from a prison work gang in 1945 and lived in Okefenokee swamp for two weeks before making his way to Texas. He became a painting contractor here, married and recently became the father of a son.
Mrs. Ryckley said she would follow her husband to Georgia in about three weeks to petition Gov. E. M. Thompson for clemency.

Homemade Gifts Big Help On Thrifty, Happy Christmas
By DOROTHY ROE, Associated Press Fashion Editor.
Christmas should be a time of happiness of renewing old friendships and cementing family ties of reaffirming the Biblical words, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."
If the season is marred by worry over stretching the budget and knowledge of an impending avalanche of bills, the traditional meaning of the holiday is lost, and it may become a time of tension and strain and frantic effort to "keep up with the Joneses."
The woman who is expert at needlework is lucky, particularly in this year of soaring prices, for she can solve all her gift problems with her own nimble fingers, with practically no strain on the budget.
Almost everyone likes to receive a hand-made gift, not only for its own beauty and usefulness, but also for the effort and care it represents on the part of the giver. This year there are new designs for knitted and crocheted gifts that are easy to make, inexpensive, and sure to rate top billing on the Christmas tree.
Featured above are two new crocheted blouses which would delight the heart of any college girl—or even her mother. They are made from six-cord mercerized cotton, and instructions are available at most needlework counters. Team either of them with one of the new circular skirts, ankle length for evening, calf-length for daytime, and you have a handsome new costume in tune with the "new look."
For the male half of the gift list hand-knit sweaters, argyle socks, knitted neckties and mufflers are always acceptable.
For small fry there are many amusing toys that can be whipped up with knitting needles and yarn, crochet hooks and cotton, or needle and thread. Instructions are available for a whole menagerie of knitted or crocheted stuffed animals, and the range of rag dolls and doll clothes is almost endless. So if you have more time than money, try homemade gifts this Christmas.

Diphtheria Shots For All Children Urged By Doctor

AUSTIN, Dec. 4.—(Spl.)—All children should be immunized against diphtheria at a very early age, according to a statement on the subject released this week by the Texas state department of health, explaining that toxoid, which can be administered easily and without danger, can safeguard youngsters against this serious and killing disease of childhood.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, urges all Texas parents to have their children, who are not already protected, immunized at once.

"The administration of toxoid can save a child from serious illness or even death and those who have not been safeguarded against this danger should be inoculated immediately," Dr. Cox said.

"Babies should be immunized by the age of eight or nine months," Dr. Cox advised. Authorities on the care of infants recommend a first dose by the age of eight or nine months, and sometimes as early as six months. A second dose is usually given later.

To maintain complete immunity, Dr. Cox said that a reinforcing dose of toxoid is advised when a child is old enough to enter school. A school test reveals the need of one. Children who enter school or kindergarten this year without this additional safeguard or without ever having been immunized certainly should be protected without any further delay, the state health officer declared.

Special Games Offered For Small Fry

AP Newsfeatures.

This Christmas the four-to-six year olds can share the fun of playing games, along with their older brothers and sisters.

There's a new game planned especially for preschool youngsters who cannot read or count. "A Visit to Mother Goose" is a brand new entry in the 1947 game pack, with only one playing piece and a board peopled with favorite nursery rhyme characters. Mother or big sister reads nursery rhyme cards with instructions for play, and the first player to reach Mother Goose wins.

The housing shortage has inspired another new game that's fun for the school-age set. "Let's Furnish a House" provides every player with $5,000 play money, with which a house is purchased on mortgage. Then players bargain for furniture (including a television set). The first to furnish his house completely, pay off the mortgage and put $1,000 in the bank wins.

Marry Young?
Marry Old?

When Job Crowell's daughter, Sue, married nineteen-year-old "Slim" Blake, a lot of folks (especially older ones) began to shake their heads. Young marriages! Tut, tut!

So I looked up some figures. It's true, young American girls and boys marry younger than in other countries. And where do you suppose they had the least chance? I won't name it, but maybe you've guessed. One of those countries that before the war suppressed all individual freedom and tolerance.

That's why I'm not worried about our younger married couples. They were raised in a country that respects one another's right—a country of tolerance and temperance (a lot of bridegrooms are ex-G.I.'s, and it looked to me like their favorite beverage was beer!)

From where I sit, it isn't when you marry that's important. It's the all-important spirit of tolerance and understanding that you bring to marriage.

Opening Bi-District Game In State Race Slated On Tiger Field Friday At 2:30

By TALMADGE CANANT
Sun Sports Staff

The Corsicana Tigers and the Breckenridge Bucs, in short drills Thursday afternoon, put the finishing touches on what they hope will be the winning offense in the Friday afternoon bi-district battle between the champs of district 9 and 10 at 2:30 on Tiger Field.

Both Boyd Payne, Tiger coach, and Cooper Robbins, Buc mentor, expect their teams to be in tip-top shape for the contest.

Downtown Corsicana may be deserted during Friday afternoon as practically all business houses planned to shut their doors so that employees may witness the battle.

The county courthouse offices will be closed, as will the city hall. The post office will be closed from 1 to 5 p. m., and the Bethlehem Steel plant here has made plans for a working day beginning at 6 a. m. and ending at 2 p. m. in order that its many employees can see the game.

Corsicana banks will close at noon Friday instead of the customary 2 p. m. time so that employees and officials can attend the bi-district game.

Corsicana schools will declare a rainday session, and let the kids out at 1 p. m. for the contest.

Advance Sales
R. A. Armistead, high school principal, said that advance ticket sales indicate that the 4,000 seats available will be sold out by noon Friday. He estimated that the weather might see as many as 10,000 spectators cramping the field. If that estimate turns out to be correct, it will be the biggest crowd to witness a football game at Tiger Field since the state championship game of 1932.

A giant pep rally will be held

Thursday afternoon at 6:30 in downtown Corsicana at the corner of Beaton and Collin streets, with hundreds of fans gathering to cheer the Tigers on. The school cheer leaders will be there to lead yells, and the high school band will be on hand to add music.

Police Chief Bruce Nutt Sheriff Dave Casstles, Constable Joe Allen and the State Highway Patrol will have all officers available on hand to handle the huge crowd expected.

The 2:30 starting time Friday makes the Corsicana-Breckenridge tilt the first bi-district game to be played this week. Several others will be played over the state at later hours Friday, and the remainder will be played Saturday.

Buc Contingent
The number of fans expected to follow the Bucs to Corsicana was not known but about 1500 tickets to the contest were sent to Breckenridge early in the week.

It is known that a number of chartered busses will be run from Breckenridge for the game, and possibly from the other 10AA cities.

Press and radio coverage of the game will be complete. Reservations already requested indicate practically a sportswriters convention, with scribes from Fort Worth, Waco, Waxahachie, Ennis, Austin, Houston, Dallas, Breckenridge and other points asking for accommodations. Three radio stations have already made reservations.

Most sportswriters will see the Tiger-Buc tilt Friday afternoon, go to Ft. Worth Friday night to see Arlington Heights and Forest Langley, and then to Longview to witness the Longview-Lufkin bi-district fracas.

Opinions Divided
The opinions of sportswriters over the state on the outcome of the game here Friday are fairly evenly divided, but the majority seem to favor the Tigers.

The Tigers won the district championship of 10AA this year for the first time since 1934. Their last venture into the state playoffs saw them beat Athens 26-14 in the bi-district and go down before Granger in the quarter final.

The Tigers will again be tagged out in their white jerseys Friday afternoon, after playing Cleburne in their yellow alternates. Breckenridge players will be wearing green jerseys.

Hope for Dry Field
Corsicana hopes for a dry field since the Junglebeats are a high scoring outfit. Corsicana's 263 points are exceeded only by Odessa, Wichita Falls and Harlingen in the sixteen district champions records.

The 97 points of the opposition, however, against Corsicana is incidentally the most of any of the sixteen AA clubs remaining in the race for the state championship.

Tiger Field should be in perfect condition if the sun shines during the day and Friday. Coach Payne stated Thursday morning. The 41 inch of rainfall Wednesday night and early Thursday will not bother the field if the sun continues to shine and additional precipitation is not received.

Farm Is Leased
To A. J. Dooley
By Commissioners

The county commissioners court Monday accepted the bid of $412.75 by A. J. Dooley to lease the county farm for 1948. Judge L. L. Powell said the sum was considerably less than this year's figure because of less buildings at the farm. Two were destroyed by fire and four have been sold.

Waco, Temple, Waxahachie Each Place Two; Hillsboro, Ennis One On Honor Squad

By TALMADGE CANANT
Sun Sports Staff

The 1947 Corsicana Daily Sun 10-AA All-District grid team finds four members of the Corsicana Tigers, district titlists, holding down starting berths on the mythical eleven.

The selections were made in watching the teams in the district in play against other district teams, as well as outside opponents. Richard Cummins landed a berth at center on the first team, and Charles Bittner landed a slot at tackle. Bill Davis, and June Clark were the backfield members who earned places on the first team.

Davis-Clark Repeats
Both Davis and Clark were mentioned on the 1946 composite all-district selections made by district 10-AA sportswriters.

The Waco Tigers, runners-up in the race, placed two men on the first team. Temple placed two players, Waxahachie placed two and Ennis and Hillsboro placed one each.

Because of the wealth of suitable backs throughout the district, both the first and second teams include five backfield men instead of the customary four.

WINTER FAITH

Now the roses all are bare;
 Brown the stems that once were green.
 Death appears triumphant there,
 For no sign of life is seen.
 And as tenderly we lay
 Over them a covering deep,
 None of us can truly say
 Is it death or is it sleep.
 By the light of faith that burns
 In the heart and not the brain,
 We believe when spring returns
 They will wake to bloom again.

food, the ban on travel, and the direction or drafting of labor seem to have formed the three-fold straw which broke the camel's back.

The same thing is true in this country. It is never the radicals who stay home from the polls. They are on their toes and anxious to make every vote count. The conservative or reactionary element is more likely to have a what's-the-use attitude. They are awakened to their duty as voters only after they begin to feel the pinch of unpleasant legislation. Thus the pendulum swings. A fair middle-of-the-road course is never quite achieved, but taken on the average the results are not bad.

UNION STATESMANSHIP

The victory of the Reuther or anti-Communist forces in the United Auto Workers election is a reminder that a union or corporation election may be more important than the choice of many governors of states, or of some Presidents. The automobile union's activities affect more people than those of most political officials. Also it makes a difference to public peace if the large steel companies are aggressively anti-union, as they were a few years ago, when they preferred to have an industrial war rather than to negotiate with their men collectively.

Statesmanship is not confined to political administration. Its field extends to labor and business.

THE WORLD COURT

The International Court
 of Justice should be used more, says the UN General Assembly, which has just urged this course on the nations.

It was not so many years ago that a world court was looked upon by some folk as a horrible menace to American liberty. A resolution to have the United States join the court was beaten in the Senate, chiefly because of the violent opposition of Father Coughlin. We have been at it ever since we joined the United Nations, and it has not yet imperiled us.

By the way, does anyone
 remember who Father Coughlin was? Before long, people may be asking, "Who was that guy Hitler, anyway?"

Sometimes a fellow just sitting and thinking begins to believe that the First Psalm has something. Surely old Jan Smuts, who pushed the World Court and the League of Nations, is "like a tree planted by the rivers of water."

As for the Hitlers and Mussolinis, and their little emulators like the Cough-lins, are they not "like the chaff which the wind driveth away?"

ALICE GOING BACK

Not all American gifts to Great Britain are going under lend-lease or the Marshall plan. A donation which is almost assured is calculated to warm the cockles of the British heart and make the English think better of Americans.

This is the return to Great Britain of the original manuscript of Alice in Wonderland. Bought by an American at an auction in 1928,
 the manuscript was re-sold last year, going to Dr. A. S.
 W. Rosenbach, a Philadelphia book seller, for $50,000.
 Here Dr. Luther Evans, librarian of Congress, comes in. He believes an item so
 dear to English children should belong in England, and has raised all but a small amount of the necessary $50,000 to buy it back and send it there.

This should ease the natural British humiliation at having to appeal for aid to the United States.

GROPING IN FAMILIAR SURROUNDINGS

Cotton Shortage, Free Trade Need Discussed By Burris Jackson, National Expert, At GI Farm Trainee Meeting

By CLYDE E. JOHNSON
 Daily Sun Staff

"We are drastically short—critically short—of cotton, and probably will be for the next two or three years," Burris C. Jackson, chairman of the Cotton Research Congress and postmaster at Hillsboro, told nearly 400 persons here Tuesday night.

Speaking in the district courtroom at a meeting of Navarro G.
 I. trainee farmers, Jackson said
 the world could stand at least a 20 per cent boost in cotton production without fear of "over-producing."

"We are forcing Europe to go to Peru, Brazil, and other nations to purchase cotton," he declared, adding "and we're getting them
 in the habit of it."

World Condition Discussed
 Jackson spoke mainly on "The World Cotton Condition," emphasizing the fabric's importance to every day living.

"Every person in the world depends upon cotton as a source of apparel. Your homes depend upon it for their attractiveness and charm."

"Wars have been fought about and won by cotton. The Civil War was a war fought about cotton and all of you know the great part played in winning World War II. It furnished ammunition, tires, tents, clothing and thousands of other items."

"Other ranks with food in regard to the welfare of people, and cotton is the chief fiber; it is the principal fabric of all clothing, the number 1 agricultural enterprise in the United States and many other smaller nations. Cotton manufacturers employ more people than the giant automobile industry or the great steel mills."

Jackson said "world trade is the lifeblood of the American cotton industry," and he urged a better understanding of world commerce because of this.

"We do not exist as a great cotton empire because of what we sell in this country," he declared, pointing out that in normal times Texas exports 90 per cent of all the cotton it produces.

BURRIS C. JACKSON

America will produce 11,500,000
 bales of cotton this year, he said.
 The U. S. itself will use 9,500,000 bales and 2,500,000 will be retained for reasons of safety, he said.
 "It would be suicide" for this country to be almost without cotton."

Explaining that the 2,500,000 "safety bales" are carried over from last year, Jackson declared:
 "That leaves just 2,300,000 bales of cotton left in this country for export. Normally, we export five to seven million bales each year.
 The world is crying for it but all we can possibly give them is 2,300,000 bales."

High Prices Seen
 Jackson expressed belief that as long as conditions exist as they do now, "we're going to have high prices" and he predicted those conditions for the next two or three years. He considered thirty-cent cotton a "high price."

Looking abroad, the postmaster-cotton man said: "We can't have a Marshall plan forever. We hear of dollar shortages in Europe but we don't have to go to Europe to find dollar shortages. We've got them in our own backyard."

A bitter battle is under way between the raw cotton industry, and the textile industry, Jackson said, explaining that each wants to ship his product abroad.

Raw Exports Defended
 The speaker immediately took to the defense of raw cotton exports. The United States should ship raw cotton, lots of raw cotton to Europe, Japan and the Far East where they can spin it into fabrics and other uses, he said.

Jackson opposed the textile interests who "ship the finished product" abroad.

The cotton expert had much praise for research work, declaring that not near enough money is spent for cotton research. He cited the Ford Soy Bean research program—only a $10,000,000 crop at the time—which results in many uses for the product, such as steering wheels for cars. Only $1,000-000 was spent for cotton research at the same time Ford personally sponsored his soy bean research program, and cotton was a $100-000,000 crop then, Jackson said.

Jackson's ideas for conserving the cotton production included
 mechanization of farming,
 such as the cotton picker and the flame weeder.

T. C. Stell, Irene postmaster, introduced the speaker. After the principal address, Fred Gould, ex-Worth cattleman and radio commentator, spoke briefly, urging diversification of agriculture in the state and increased production of cattle, poultry and other livestock.
 "Why, we are even importing poultry from Arkansas," Gould declared. "and all of you know Texas could raise enough poultry
 to cover the entire state of Arkansas."

I. V. Dunnagan, G. I. student at Frost, presided at the meeting which was planned by the student council of the Navarro Vocational School. The school co-ordinator, Ralph Evans, related briefly how the school had expanded and predicted more prosperous 1948.

 D. Parks, whose plane crashed in the foothills of the Andes Mountains in Peru recently while on a routine flying mission, will be held in Lancaster on Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Lancaster cemetery.
 Col. Parks will be remembered in Corsicana as the flight surgeon of the local army air school. At the time of his death, he was flight surgeon at the American military commission in Lima, Peru.
 Mrs. Parks and sons, Jerry and Cub, who were also former residents of Corsicana, arrived from Peru at an early hour today.

Ranger Active In Famous Cases Is Dead At Austin

AUSTIN, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Manney Bault, 61, long-time Texas Ranger and for the past 10 years Ranger captain at Lubbock, died of heart disease at a local hospital at 5:20 a. m. today.

Gault was active with former Ranger Captain Frank Hamer and Louisiana county officers in the killing of the notorious Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker who had swept the Southwest in a wave of crime in the middle 1930's.

Gault had also personally handled cases in Littlefield in which Dr. Roy Hunt was first attacked and later slain along with his wife in the bedroom of his home.

Gault had served 18 years with the Rangers, his service being broken only temporarily during the administration of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson when many of the old timers either left or were removed from service.

During his absence from Ranger service, Gault served as deputy sheriff of Travis county.

Gault is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Leona Fennell, and one son, Johnson, all of Austin.

Funeral services will be held here at 2 p. m. tomorrow, with graveside services conducted by the Onion Creek Masonic Lodge, of which he was a member.

Storybooks Come to Life in New Idea of Painting 'Books'

AP Newsfeatures.

First aid for bedtime storytellers is slated for top position in Santa's pack this Christmas. It is a new full-color print of a painting of "Alice in Wonderland," by Ayres Houghtelling, a self-taught New York artist who believes in the creative stimulus of fantasy.

The painting, first of a series, depicts the complete story of Alice in a panorama picture, including all the well-loved characters and incidents as pure decoration, it is a perfect picture for a child's room. But Mr. Houghtelling believes that it will help both parents and children to rediscover the charm of the famous book, and will encourage fathers to new efforts in storytelling. Says he: "Modern kids need more direct contact with their fathers. They need more of a sense of companionship with the head of the house. Too often they think of him as an unapproachable grouch who's away at the office and mustn't be disturbed in the evenings. They are pleasantly surprised if they find he was an entertaining guy who could spin a yarn."

Good home storytelling, the artist believes, can whet a child's appetite for the best in literature. He adds: "But the trouble is that too often the parents themselves think of the classics as dull—probably because they've never taken the time to read them—and their attitude discourages the children from finding out for themselves. The modern child needs more fantasy to stimulate his imaginative and creative faculties.

The artist started his painting of "Alice in Wonderland" after his three children, Vickie, Vonnle and Randy, demanded to "see the pictures" when he read the book to them. Houghtelling says: "I discovered that modern kids demand pictures because their lives are filled with them. Movies, comic books, picture magazines surround them on all sides. So I decided the only way to get children interested in reading a good book was to make a beautiful picture—really a kind of exciting preview—out of the book. And it worked."

Mr. Houghtelling plans a series of his "art-told tales," and is at present completing a painting—view of "Treasure Island."

Steelworkers Of Southwest Seek Increase In Pay

HOUSTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Substantial wage increases will be demanded for approximately 15,000 steel workers in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, James Dickerson, director of district 37 of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO), has announced.

Dickerson's statement yesterday followed CIO President Philip Murray's announcement of plans for a CIO-wide demand for a third round of post-war increases.

"The wages in this area must go up at least 30 per cent in view of the present price curve," Dickerson said.

"As fast as contracts expire or wage negotiations can be reopened, we shall demand substantial wage increases from every employer in District 37," Dickerson said.

Management leaders in Houston, all of whom refused to be quoted, termed the new demand as "ridiculous" and "hopeless."

CONGRESS

inent citizens from advising the government.

Recess Delays Action.

Smith then withdrew his question from the record, saying "I intended in no way to reflect on the motives or integrity of anyone."

The 10-man Hiram committee was named by President Truman to survey the nation's business resources to report what aid might be made available by the U. S. under the proposed Marshall plan. After Smith withdrew his questions, the house committee recessed until Monday, lessening prospects for any early congressional action on anti-inflation controls.

Anderson Sees Controls.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson told the committee yesterday that unless demand drops unexpectedly "I don't see how we can go through the spring without price controls on meat."

But Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) told a reporter later that he could see another alternative: A "real" voluntary rationing program.

Other Matters Studied.

While congress' main concern was with foreign and American inflation, it had other matters on its mind as well. These included a variety of subjects: Government spending, shady dealings on the commodities exchanges and social security among other things.

A house executive expenditures subcommittee has been holding hearings on how the government spends its money, and two witnesses have testified that one agency—the Reconstruction Finance Corporation—has spent it unwisely.

Theodore Hertz and T. Coleman Andrews—the first an official of the government's general accounting office, the second a former member of the same office—also told the committee that RFC's bookkeeping was faulty.

Jones Called Today.

Jesse Jones, who headed the multi-billion dollar lending agency from 1932 to January 1945, has been invited to answer that testimony today.

Another congressional group—the senate finance committee—called a meeting today to discuss possible improvements in the social security law.

Some of the changes being considered would extend social security to cover self-employed persons, farm workers and domestic workers who are not now covered, and would grant benefits to workers disabled permanently.

And, to add to its other problems, congress had this one tossed at it yesterday:

Income Taxes Involved.

The agriculture department said a number of Americans and wealthy refugees have been speculating in commodities just to duck income taxes.

Secretary Anderson said an examination of accounts on August 30 showed 646 traders and $150,000,000 involved on such deals. Anderson said the agriculture department plans to do what it can to stop the practice.

But, he added, some congressional action may be necessary to plug all the loopholes.

at once because it is the fundamentals of the German peace settlement that they are supposed to be discussing here.

Neither U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall nor British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin made any comment, so Molotov announced that, lacking support, he would withdraw his proposal. Soviet officials said later he had had no intention of trying to break off the London meeting.

Purpose Mystery

His exact purpose, however, remained a mystery to French, British and American authorities, who shared Bidault's view that the fundamentals of the German peace treaty are an immediate concern of the current conference.

Some western observers speculated that Molotov's suggestion had merely been put forward casually. Others, suspicious of every Russian move, sought for deeper and more devious motives.

Among the theories advanced by the latter group was the possibility that Molotov believed that should he commit the western powers to a report on the German treaty fundamentals two months hence he would delay any move on their part to set up a government in western Germany.

Molotov Seen Likely

Establishment of such a government in the American, British and French occupation zone has been regarded as likely should the Big Four fail to reach any understanding at their present session. Yesterday's session—which adjourned early so the ministers could take tea with King George at Buckingham Palace—ended discussions on preparation of the German peace treaty.

Price-Fixing On Cottonseed May Be Investigated

EL PASO, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Attorney General Price Daniel has been asked by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association to investigate the possibility of price-fixing in the sale of cottonseed feed products.

Former State Senator Penrose Metcalfe, chairman of the association resolutions committee, told the closing session of the convention yesterday that the cost of cottonseed feed had risen 25 percent the past 50 days.

W. Clayton Puckett, Port Stockton, was named president for 1948. Sayers Farmer, Junction, was named first vice president, and Jake Mayfield, Juno, second vice president.

Cowboy Suits Fail To Change British Sailors To Texans

HOUSTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Three young British seamen are sporting brand new cowboy suits but they probably will be wearing them back to England and not to Sweetwater, Texas.

The trio were picked up yesterday in the Houston union railroad station after travelers were attracted by the clash of British accents with 10-gallon sombrero and cowboy shirts. Immigration officers said they were former members of the crew of the steamship Atlantic City, who left their vessel there and took off for West Texas.

Deportation proceedings were scheduled next week.

The Wild West-minded trio had picked Sweetwater as their destination after a man in a Galveston bar told them they looked like cowpunchers from that part of the country.

The XX Century Club and the high school were to present Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew" at the Carnegie Library.

U. S. Attorney General Daugherty asserted that the Department of Justice has no jurisdiction in crimes attributed to the Ku Klux Klan. He assured inquirers if a case arose in which the U. S. had jurisdiction, prompt action would be taken.

Educational Week was being observed in Corsicana, in a nationwide effort to publicize the lack of educational opportunities offered many children.

The posse searching for the negro wanted for an attack on the wife of the Freestone county sheriff was dwindling, and it was believed that the fugitive had made good his escape from the county.

DISCUSSION OF COMMUNISM BY JULIUS JACOBS FEATURES D.A.R. MEETING WEDNESDAY

In a discussion of "The Truth About Communism" at the regular meeting of James Blair Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at the home of Mrs. John C. Calhoun on Wednesday afternoon, Julius Jacobs said, "I like nothing about Communism. I despise the system of government which takes everything from its people and regards them as slaves of the State. I deplore the Communist attitude toward international affairs, which has produced a misunderstanding between nations so great that the possibility of another war must be ever present. I like the subject assigned to me because I think that our people should know more about Communism and how it works in Russia as well as throughout the world."

Continuing, he stated that when he titled his talk "The Truth About Communism," he probably assumed a greater burden than he or perhaps any other American could discharge, since it is difficult to learn the truth. Many of the articles in newspapers and magazines are biased or prejudiced, he said, often exaggerating the worst qualities of Communism in order to satisfy a glibly reading public with the most sordid stories about Russia. He added that it is not necessary to exaggerate, "for the truth about Communism and how it works are enough to turn our country into the staunchest advocates of our free democratic way of life."

No Definition of Communism. The speaker stated that he would not try to define the word, "Communism," for no one sentence or paragraph or page or chapter could properly define it. However, he pointed out that "it is a form of government which is inconsistent in its very nature, and we can understand that kind of government only by observing and knowing how it works, how its citizens fare, what progress it is making and the dangers incident to its attitude in international affairs."

The speaker traced the rise of Communism from the time the Bolsheviks seized power in November, 1917, through Lenin's regime and the introduction of the various 5-year plans, up to 1924 when Lenin passed away and Stalin emerged as the undisputed leader of national Communism.

"Today," he said, "the government of Russia rests in the hands of fourteen political bosses, who are called the Politburo. They hold the key jobs controlling every nerve-strand of the country's administration. They are the inner circle of Stalin's most trusted lieutenants. Stalin is the head man—then follows Molotov and twelve other names which one can hardly pronounce without choking."

Twelve Scared Men. The speaker referred to the twelve Communists as twelve scared men—scared of what might happen within their own country and scared of what might happen to them in the international world. These men must remember that they arose to power through violence, and they do not intend to leave that route open to any other group of determined conspirators. They must also recall, he stated, that a high percentage of Russia's rulers died of violence. In order to combat this danger, they have the NKVD, a special army of police—better equipped, better trained and more handsomely uniformed than the army, the speaker declared.

The speaker mentioned Russia's fear of foreigners, since she does not want her military strength or weaknesses known abroad. The Communist leaders also fear to let their people know how the rest of the world lives, the speaker stated. The Russian people have lived hard lives during the past thirty years, and the goals of the next five-year plan is even more terrifying than those of the past, it was pointed out.

The speaker presented a vivid picture of living conditions in Russia today, showing the appalling lack of space, stating that as many as four families sometimes live in one room. "Yes, the people are weary, and there is some discontent, but the grumbling is not loud as yet. The Communist Party is trying to convince the people that their lot is better than many, and that the United States is becoming dangerously belligerent." "The Russian people know only what their leaders want them to know," the speaker declared.

After recounting the many definite conclusions that may be drawn after a study of the Russian people, the speaker concluded by saying, "let us hope and pray, and cling to the hope and continue to pray that the policy of our statesmen in their future relations with Russia will lead us along that coveted path of peace."

A period of questions and answers followed the discussion. Mr. Jacobs was introduced to his listeners by Miss Elizabeth Harline, chairman of National Daughters of the American Revolution. In her introductory remarks, Miss Harline characterized the speaker as "citizen, neighbor and gallant soldier," and stated that the chapter was happy to have him as a guest speaker for the afternoon.

Business Session. The regent, Mrs. Roberta G. Steele, called the meeting to order, the invocation was offered by Mrs. Walter Guthrie, chaplain, the pledge to the flag was given and one verse of "The Star-Spangled Banner" was sung by chapter members.

Minutes of last meeting were read by Mrs. Roy Love, and Mrs. Max Almond read letters of thanks from state officers who attended the recent regional meeting in Corsicana. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. J. Wesley Edens.

Mrs. W. S. Dockum, chairman of American Music, spoke of the verses that Mrs. R. A. Caldwell had written on the D.A.R. and suggested that they be set to music by means of a local composers' contest. A committee to assist Mrs. Dockum in investigating the matter and reporting at next meeting will include Mrs. W. P. McCammon,

JULIUS JACOBS

Mrs. Roberta G. Steele and Mrs. R. A. Caldwell.

Mrs. H. R. Stroube, Jr., Junior Chairman, announced that note paper carrying a picture of Continental Hall was now being sold at one dollar per box in order to augment the Helen Pouch Scholarship and Camp Fire Funds.

The report of Mrs. R. A. Caldwell on Approved Schools was read by Mrs. Steele, and reminded those who have clothing for Tamassee and Kate Duncan Smith Schools to leave it at the home of Mrs. Ed Graham.

Decorative Highlights. Decorative highlights of the Calhoun home featured yellow chrysanthemums and red carnations, flanked by red tapers in antique crystal candelabra in the hall; oak leaves and yellow plume chrysanthemums in an antique epergne on the piano; gilded cat-tails and red oak leaves in copper container on living room mantel; red chrysanthemums and oak leaves and red tapers in hurricane lamps on the sun porch mantel, and bronze and yellow chrysanthemums in an antique china tureen on dining room mantel.

Tall red tapers in silver candelabra provided soft illumination for the refreshment table which was centered with a profusion of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums and red carnations. Mrs. Roy Love served coconut balls and Mrs. Will Miller presided at the tea table and coffee service, and guests served themselves from trays of assorted sandwiches, cheese balls and salted pecans.

The only out-of-town guest of the afternoon was Mrs. Julius Derby of the Alamo Chapter of San Antonio.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Calhoun were Mesdames Louise Pace King, W. T. Shell, Jr., J. S. Murchison, Henry Miller, W. M. Clarkson, J. S. Daniel, P. H. Loggins, Inez Neff and Walter Fendley.

Parents of Son. Mr. and Mrs. David McElwath of Harlingen announce the arrival of a son, David McElwath, Jr., on Tuesday, weighing seven pounds. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Slaughter, and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. F. P. McElwath of Combs.

Social Security Subject Tuesday Of Lions Speaker

The duties and workings of the Social Security Administration and the Federal Security Administration were explained to the Corsicana Lions Club at luncheon Tuesday by R. R. Tuley, manager of the Waco office.

Explaining the purpose of the federal aid programs, Tuley said the government launched an attack against three main hazards—unemployment, old age and death of the breadwinner.

Following the address, Lions members popped scores of questions to Tuley, who frankly admitted that the government "isn't doing the job it intended to do." Tuley expressed approval of a recent recommendation to congress that old age and survivors insurance be extended to cover all workers.

As it now stands, Tuley said, only about 42 per cent of Texans are eligible under the insurance regulations. People not eligible include farmers, small business owners and domestic workers. Tuley cited several statistics relative to payments made for old age assistance. In Navarro county, he said, $140,000 is paid annually to 169 persons over 65 years of age. Approximately $33,000 is paid to 216 children and widows annually.

Lions President John McAdams reported that Texas Lions shipped

46 cars of food on the Freedom Train and that Corsicanans, with their contributions, purchased about five 200-pound barrels of milk.

Further plans for the annual Lions Ladies Night to be held at the Country Club December 16 were discussed. Speed Hamilton was named to direct ticket sales to members, their wives and guests.

Woman Breaks Arm. Mrs. H. C. Garrison of Blooming Grove fell on the back steps of her home early Thursday morning, fracturing her left arm above the wrist.

After treatment at the P. and S. Hospital, she returned home. It was stated Mrs. Garrison slipped when she stepped on mud on the doorstep.

Tiger Xs Club Is Organized to Help Local Athletics

The Tiger Xs Club was organized at an enthusiastic meeting Monday night of former players at Corsicana high school. Officials were named and plans were made for the organizing of an independent football club to play one or more benefit games against Hubbard, Dawson or other aggregations in this area. The meeting was at the Stoy and Eat.

There were 30 former Bengals on hand from clubs since 1934. Players prior to that time were not represented at this initial meeting.

The purpose of the club is to assist and supplement the athletic program at Corsicana High School and Navarro Junior College. The coaches of both schools promised co-operation in every way possible. The college is loaning the Xs uniforms for practice and play.

Humphries President. Jack Strobe was the temporary chairman. Officers elected were Homer Humphries, president; Tom Paschal, vice president; J. N. (Sonny) Ellett, secretary; Jack Love, treasurer; Bill McKie, publicity; and G. H. Weatherly and Richard Everetts, directors, and with the officers, will constitute the by-laws and constitution committee and will submit a tentative constitution.

Some of the former players practiced Sunday afternoon. Another practice session is slated Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock at the high school grounds. Dues are $8 per year.

Admission prices for the benefit game to be announced later will be $1 for adults and 30 cents for students.

President Humphries praised Coach Payne and his assistants as being like the late John A. Pierce who can "get everything out of a boy possible" and referred to the present district champions as the first since 1934.

Fayne credited his assistants, Garland Matthews and Otis Pederson, with the success of the present season along with the boys, and said they were busy trying to make the district champion Tigers bid-district champions Friday afternoon.

The two Tiger assistants, Coach Ken Clark and Guyle Akridge, assistant, and others also spoke briefly, including R. C. Harkins of the Dads Club.

Victim Of Wreck Is Flown Here For Treatment

Mrs. Franklin Wise of Iraan, seriously injured in an automobile accident two weeks ago, was brought to Corsicana in a Standard Oil Co. plane Tuesday and was taken to the Navarro clinic for additional treatment.

Mrs. Wise, the former Martha Bays, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Bays, 1539 West Third avenue, was hurt when the car in which she, her husband and daughter, Martha Sue, aged one year, were riding struck loose gravel and turned over near Iraan. Wise and the little daughter escaped injury.

The husband, an employee of the Standard Oil Company, had met his wife and daughter at Midland after they had returned from a visit to Corsicana.

Mrs. Wise was taken to a hospital in San Angelo where she was treated until she was placed aboard the plane Tuesday at 1 p. m. for the trip to Corsicana. The plane landed at the municipal airport at 2:35 p. m. and the patient was transferred to the clinic from the plane in a Griffin ambulance.

Husband, Nurse Accompany Mrs. Wise was accompanied in the plane by her husband and Miss Eva Brummett, Corsicana nurse. The mother, Mrs. Bays, who had been with her daughter, arrived home by automobile, accompanied by her granddaughter, at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, five minutes before the plane arrived. She had left San Angelo early Tuesday morning.

Board Of Control Members Inspect State Home Here

Members of the State Board of Control were at the State Home here Wednesday for a preliminary inspection of projected repairs to be made to the boys' dormitory there. Maynard Kelly, Home superintendent, reported.

T. B. Warden, member of the Board, and Walter Moore, Board architect, consulted with H. O. Blanding, local architect, in inspecting the building.

Funds amounting to about $100,000 have been appropriated for repairs to be made at the State Home

Costly Damages From Fires Last Month Reported

The monthly report of Fire Chief H. P. Blivins, filed Tuesday, put a loss of $46,000 on a fire that wiped out the DeLuxe Garage and Bus Service on South Beaton Street, but Blivins said that the figure did not include loss sustained by Louis Territo in having four practically new buses destroyed.

Bus and car losses are not included, Blivins said.

The bus loss was placed at $24,500 by Territo, which figure would boost the entire cost to $70,500. Blivins said the K. Wolens Department Store had a loss of $12,000 in contents of a warehouse across the alley, and that damage to the Wolens building was $1,500. He set the loss of the garage building at $10,000, and loss to Territo in tools and equipment at $20,000.

The total for the month was $48,145 in fire damage, covered by insurance totaling $89,000.

There were 20 alarms.

PALESTINE

Calra Riots Renewed
For the fourth day Calra experienced a tumultuous anti-partition demonstration. A crowd estimated at 15,000 paraded, smashed shop windows and fired trolleys and automobiles. Police dismounted a report that three students were killed and eight were wounded, saying they had no news of casualties.

Police fired volleys over the heads of the crowd and charged them with clubs and whips as the demonstrators shouted "Palestine for the Arabs!"
Demonstrators in Iraq set fire to the United States information office at Baghdad, wrecked furniture and smashed windows, despite efforts of police to halt them. All Baghdad's Jews were being registered in what was believed to be a precautionary move looking toward possible evacuation of the Jewish population to a safe place.

Jewish Quarter Bombed
The Jewish quarter of Beirut, Lebanon, was shaken by bomb explosions, but there were no casualties.

At Lake Success, N. Y., headquarters of the United Nations, Jewish agency officials were reported seeking means for the suppression of the anti-partition rioting in the Holy Land. One source said the agency sought diplomatic pressure by the U. S. State Department on Arab governments in the Middle East and an embargo on materials which might be used to further the Palestine conflict.

A committee of Arabs who returned to Haifa last night from a meeting in Lebanon with Haj Amin El Hussein, exiled Mufti of Jerusalem, issued a plea to Palestine Arabs to "refrain from unorganized attacks and to keep the peace." Clouds of smoke still hung over Haifa from fires set in last night's rioting.

Hagana Asks Unity
Hagana, the Jewish underground militia, appealed to "dissident groups" to join them, and Irgun Zvai Leumi, one of the Jewish underground's dissident units, issued a warning to Arabs against further violence.
Hagana announced that a shipload of 170 unarmored Jewish immigrants slipped by the British blockade during the night of December 4, scattering at once to Jewish settlements in the Tel Aviv area.

British Soldier Wounded
In Jerusalem, a Jew was wounded by gunfire in the curfew-bound section of the old city and a British soldier was injured by an Arab mob attempting to break a military cord at the Jaffa gate.

A Jewish truck driver knifed yesterday near the Jaffa gate died this morning of his wounds, and police found the body of a dead Jew in the riot-blackened commercial center of Jerusalem. That section, now under a 24-hour curfew, forms a no-man's land between Jewish districts of the city.
An Arab mob on the highway between Tel Aviv and Lydda airport stoned a Norwegian Airlines automobile and beat up the Jewish driver but did not molest a uniformed official in the car.
A pall of smoke hung over Haifa as a result of fires set during the night.

warden to deputy grand master, and Albert DeLange of Houston, grand junior warden, to grand senior warden.

Elections Stated.
The elective post of grand junior warden will be filled in today's balloting by Blue Lodge delegates and past masters.

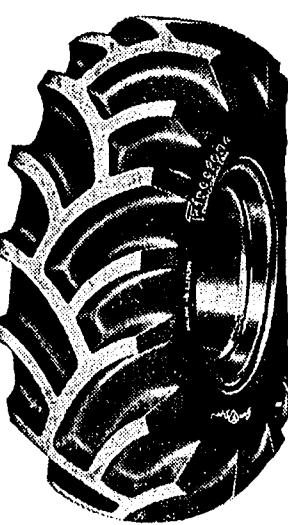

One place on the Grand Lodge committee on work will be filled. The term of W. W. Boothe, chairman of the committee, expires this year.
Last night delegates representing 891 Blue Lodges authorized a $1,716,000 contract with A. J. Rife of Dallas for construction of the Masonic Grand Lodge Memorial Temple in Waco.
The temple will have a seating capacity of 4,000. An outstanding feature of the building will be a memorial room dedicated to the more than 20,000 Texas Masons who served in World War II.

Recess Delays Action.
Smith then withdrew his question from the record, saying "I intended in no way to reflect on the motives or integrity of anyone."

The 19-man Harriman committee was named by President Truman to survey the nation's business resources to report what aid might be made available by the U. S. under the proposed Marshall plan.
After Smith withdrew his questions, the house committee recessed until Monday, lessening prospects for any early congressional action on anti-inflation controls.

Anderson Sees Controls.
Secretary of Agriculture Anderson told the committee yesterday that unless demand drops unexpectedly, food prices will go through the spring without price controls on meat.

But Senator Flanders (R-Vt.) told a reporter later that he could see another alternative: A "real" voluntary rationing program.
"If I go for any controls on meat, it would be rationing as a last resort," Flanders said, and added that he is against price control on any products.

Other Matters Studied.
While congress' main concern was with foreign aid and American inflation, it had other matters on its mind as well. These included a variety of subjects: Government spending, shady dealings on the commodities exchanges and social security, among others.

A house executive expenditures subcommittee has been holding hearings on how the government spends its money, and two witnesses have testified that one agency—the Reconstruction Finance Corporation—has spent it unwisely.

Thodore Hertz and T. Coleman Andrews—the first and second officials of the government's general accounting office, the second a former member of the same office—also told the committee that RFC's bookkeeping was faulty.

Jones Called Today.
Jesse Jones, who headed the multi-billion dollar lending agency from 1932 to January, 1945, has been called to answer that testimony today.

Another congressional group—the senate finance committee—called a meeting today to discuss possible improvements in the social security law.
Some of the changes being considered would extend social security to cover self-employed persons, farm workers and domestic workers who are not now covered, and would grant benefits to workers disabled permanently.

And, to add to other problems, congress had this one tossed at it yesterday:

Income Taxes Involved.
The agriculture department said a number of Americans and wealthy refugees have been speculating in commodities just to duck income taxes.

Secretary Anderson said an examination of accounts on August 30 showed 646 traders and $150,000,000 involved on such deals. Anderson said the agriculture department plans to do what it can to stop the practice.

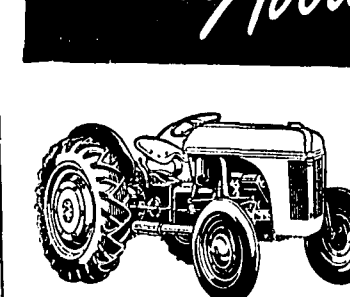

But, he added, some congressional action may be necessary to plug all the loopholes.

at once because it is the fundamentals of the German peace settlement that they are supposed to be discussing here.
Neither U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall nor British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin made any comment, so Molotov announced that the conference would withdraw his proposal.

Soviet officials said later he had had no intention of trying to break off the London meeting.

His exact purpose, however, remained a mystery to French, British and American authorities, who shared Bidault's view that the fundamentals of the German peace treaty are an immediate concern of the current conference.

Some western observers speculated that Molotov's suggestion had merely been put forward casually. Others, suspicious of every Russian move, sought for deeper and more devious motives.
Among the theories advanced by the latter group was the possibility that Molotov believed that should he commit the western powers to a report on the German treaty fundamentals two months hence he would delay any move on their part to set up a government in western Germany.

Merger Seen Likely
Establishment of such a government in the American, British and French occupation zone has been regarded as likely should the Big Four fail to reach any understanding at their present session.

Yesterday's session, which adjourned early, the ministers could take tea with King George at Buckingham Palace—ended discussions on preparation of the German peace treaty.

nation with its studies of how much money it should approve.
Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), one of six senators who voted against the senate bill, brought up the question what would happen if France, Italy or Austria went Communist.

"We would be obligated, would we not, to turn this money over to these governments?" McKellar asked.
Lovett assured him that was not true. He said the President may stop the help "whenever he finds by reason of changed conditions" that assistance to the three countries or to any one of them is "no longer necessary or desirable."

2-Day Debate Seen.
Allen, chairman of the rules committee, was scheduled as the first speaker. He made public the text of his address in advance of the session.

At least two days of heated debate face the bill before it collides head-on with a roadblock of amendments voted to reduce its financial authorization and to restrict its application.

Present plans call for a final vote next Tuesday or Wednesday. Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) has expressed the hope it can reach President Truman by the end of next week.

But between the time the bill passes the house and the time it goes to Mr. Truman it must hurdle a senate-house conference committee, for the house is considering a different bill than the one the senate passed last Monday.

Amount Major Issue.
The major differences are in the amounts of interim aid proposed—$500,000,000 by the house foreign affairs committee and $997,000,000 by the senate—and in the countries that would receive it.

The senate differences are in the amounts of interim aid proposed—$500,000,000 by the house foreign affairs committee and $997,000,000 by the senate—and in the countries that would receive it.

Even opponents of the bill, including Allen, conceded that the measure will be passed. But they were determined to fight to the last vote for amendments.

Among those waiting to be considered are proposals to:

Reduce the total authorization to as low as $400,000,000.
Restrict all government buying under the bill to commodities declared surplus.

Impose price ceilings on government purchases as a safeguard against pushing domestic prices higher.

Provide for administration of the emergency program as well as subsequent long-range program, by an independent agency rather than by the state department.

Write into the bill a plainly-worded declaration that congress is not committing itself to future financial aid.

There, inflation is measured in terms of foreign currencies and prices have assumed astronomical proportions.

Table Value Set
In Russia, however, the ruble has an arbitrarily decreed value of 20 American cents.

The word of Russia's economic woes broke into print with startling suddenness.
Dispatches of American and other news correspondents in Moscow have given no hint of any developments. But these dispatches must be sent over Soviet-controlled transmission facilities.

As received here from sources in a position to know, the information is that Moscow last week was on a phenomenal buying spree with crowds lining up at shops to buy any durable goods regardless of need or intrinsic value.

Many Russian stores normally bent over their backs to serve women and poorly dressed workers were seen carrying crockery, Chinese vases and other objects.

Suburban trains were said to be overflowing with men and women loaded with packages. Luxury restaurants and cafes were crowded with men and women out for a fling on rubles they decided would soon lose their value.

The widely current Moscow rumor was that the new currency would become effective about Dec. 5, that the present ruble would be accepted in exchange only up to the amount of two months' salary, and that at least a portion of savings accounts might be "frozen."

Little Change Forecast.
The forecast for the next 30 days indicates little change in the present picture, Reedy said.

"The usual unfavorable weather during the winter months will stifle some building and construction work, and the pre-holiday reductions in retail trades personnel will tend to increase the number of unemployed in the local area, but no large scale reductions are anticipated," Reedy said.

Continued increases in living costs are playing havoc with seasonal and part-time workers, as well as those in the low income group, and many such workers are migrating to other areas in search of higher wages, and more regular employment."

Vote 408 to 183.
The national assembly approved Schuman's anti-sabotage and strike control legislation by a vote of 408 to 183.

A little earlier, the armed forces ministry announced it had chosen battle-hardened 24-year olds—half the class of 1943—to fill the quota of 80,000 men called up to bolster police ranks in fighting industrial

The new law passed by the assembly redefines the offense of sabotage and boasts maximum penalties to 10 years imprisonment and fines of $1,000,000 francs ($8,000). It also makes punishable the use of fraud, threats or violence to start strikes, keep them going or spread them.

Federal Aid Due In This County On 9 Soil Practices

Nine 1948 soil conservation practices in Navarro county, for which government financial aid will be given, were adopted at a meeting here Wednesday of county committee and agricultural officials. Cline T. Young, AAA secretary, announced Thursday.

The practices were selected among 31 recommended by the state committee and approved for payment by the Agricultural Conservation Programs Branch as those best adapted to achieve sound soil and water conservation, Young said.

Formula Set Up

A formula to determine payments for conservation practices was agreed upon as follows:

50c times cropland acres plus 10c times all other acres, the sum not to exceed $100 for any one farmer.

Navarro county towns represented at the meeting in the courthouse Wednesday were Chatfield, Dawson, Powell, Blooming Grove, Emhouse, Richland, Frost, Corsicana, Purdon, Kerens, Bazette, Store, Barry, Eureka, Eldorado, Rice and Fursley. About 45 persons were present, including soil conservation, AAA, Extension Service, Agricultural and vocational school officials.

Lewis David, state committeemen, explained to the group the breakdown on federal funds.

Farmers Must Report

Farmers must report performance of each conservation practice when completed, but not later than June 1, Young said. Farmers should make requests for assistance before beginning the conservation practice. Requests, applications and information regarding the 1948 program may be had at the triple-A office.

The nine practices for which payment will be made in Navarro county are:

1. Terraces, small and large ridge-types.
 2. Diversion terraces.
 3. Establishing a vegetative waterway.
 4. Construction of earthen dams or reservoir for livestock water or erosion control.
 5. Establishing or improving permanent pastures by seeding adapted pasture grasses, pasture legumes, or mixtures of grasses and legumes.
 6. Establishing permanent pasture by sodding bermuda grass.
 7. Application of potash and phosphate other than raw rock phosphate.
 8. Leaving on the land or turning under a satisfactory cover of winter legumes seeded in the fall of 1947.
 9. Growing a green manure or cover crop of summer legumes.
- Specifications and detailed explanations of the practices are contained in the U. S. Department of Agriculture's "Texas Handbook, 1948 Agricultural Conservation Program," available at the Triple-A office.

Physician's Body Is Sent To Los Angeles For Rites

The body of Dr. Elizabeth R. Withrow, M. D., who was suffocated by gas and smoke when her car, c. 1932 Chevy, was damaged by fire early Sunday morning, was forwarded Thursday to Dallas by Corley Funeral Home en route to Los Angeles.

No funeral services were held here. Final rites will be held in Los Angeles.

Dr. Withrow had maintained an office in the Beaton Hotel building since coming to Corsicana 15 months ago. She formerly practiced medicine in San Antonio, Albuquerque, N. M., and Texarkana.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. William Raymond; two sisters and a brother, all of Los Angeles.

Angus Child Is Struck By Car

Billy Kathryn Thomas, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Thomas of Angus, narrowly escaped serious injury at 1:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon when she is reported to have been struck by a car at Angus as she attempted to cross the Highway 75 pavement.

Rushed to the P. and S. Hospital in a Corley ambulance, X-ray examinations failed to reveal any fractures. Her condition is not regarded as serious, but is being kept at the hospital for observation until Friday.

The driver of the car, whose name was not available, came to the hospital with the child after the accident, it was stated.

Home For Aged Kept By Blind Woman To Have Open House Sunday, Inviting Corsicanans To Heart-Warming Visit

By BONNIE WRIGHT BINFORD

Daily Sun Staff

The old folks will be at home Sunday afternoon and evening. No cards will be issued. No special invitations made. But any part of that great ambiguity known as "the place that wants to warm its heart at a scene worthy of the Christmas season, is invited."

The place will be the Twilight Home, Mrs. W. B. Hilliard's rooming house for the community's aged and infirm, 308 West Seventh avenue. The hours for the open house reception, planned to observe the recent renovation of the place will be from 1 o'clock to 8 o'clock p. m.

The occasion has been arranged by Mrs. Hilliard at the insistence of friends who feel that the public should know the place exists and should be familiar with the type service it is offering.

Operated by Pensioners

Operated solely through the pensions of the old people, make it their home, the establishment represents a lifetime ambition for Mrs. Hilliard, herself.

"All my life," she has said, "I have wanted such a place for old people. I've wanted to care for dependent people."

At that they had a slim margin Mrs. Hilliard who must be in the kitchen by 5:30 to prepare breakfast for so many.

As tidy of person and manner as the place, Mrs. Hilliard is a small woman whose business-like attitude dispels any premature sympathy for her blindness.

Good Business Woman

That she is a good business woman as well as a charitable one is a fact supported by her standing with business interests in the community. Indefinite credit, discounts on groceries and necessities and infinite respect are accorded her.

Another part of the popular legend which has grown around her is her ability for smiling on the head a description of individuals she cares for. Moreover, she goes about her home without assistance of any kind and without hesitation.

Mrs. Hilliard assumes no airs for her unusual words. "Please give me no credit, I don't want that," she has said. "Just say that this work is possible because God chooses to work through me. For the opportunity I am very humble."

Outside the members of her own family Mrs. Hilliard cares for twenty-four aged people, all of whom require nursing care. Six are blind, and the two oldest members of the household are ninety-one years of age with February and March birthdays just ahead.

Of her own family there are her invalid husband; Fred G. Erwin, a brother who is ill but not bedfast, and T. H. Sanford, an uncle. The illnesses of husband and brother have not complicated the project in any way. For Mrs. Hilliard they have served to emphasize the great need to provide for the helpless.

One room of the home, especially planned by Mrs. Hilliard for its invalid occupant, has fresh blue and white wall papers with a delicate blue ceiling.

"I think a white ceiling would have made too much glare," Mrs. Hilliard says of this room, tacitly recognizing that a bedfast man may have his eyes turned ceilingward often.

She smiles when she makes the statement, knowing the unspoken question in the mind of her listener. How can she, blind, have any appreciation for the effect of glare on seeing eyes?

"People forget," she says without waiting for the question, "that I could see until I was fourteen."

More than eight years in operation, opening March 20, 1939, the home is supervised by Mrs. Hilliard with the assistance of three regular helpers and two extras.

The regular helpers are Mrs. Ben Gamble, Mrs. Annie Tabb and Mrs. Essie Stage.

Six Vacancies Now

There are six vacancies at the home at present, since the alterations were planned to permit facilities for Mrs. Hilliard.

Of special pleasure, according to Mrs. Hilliard, are those parties brought to the old people by church and social groups. "That is," she qualifies, "if visitors come before seven o'clock in the evening. After that hour they're usually in bed."

And they start stirring by 4 o'clock in the morning.

At that they beat a slim margin Mrs. Hilliard who must be in the kitchen by 5:30 to prepare breakfast for so many.

As tidy of person and manner as the place, Mrs. Hilliard is a small woman whose business-like attitude dispels any premature sympathy for her blindness.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

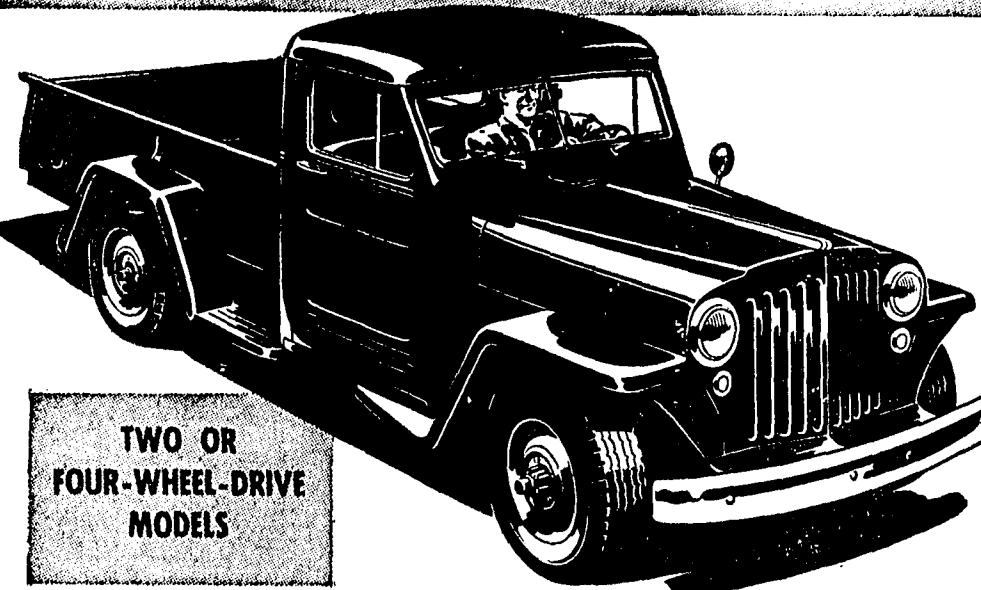

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion. Thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
2. Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

See them now—postwar-model "Jeep" Trucks, with completely new chassis and bodies, truck-engineered by the men who build the tough, rugged Universal "Jeep."

Two great lines—regular Two-Wheel Drive and a sensational Four-Wheel Drive, created by the world's largest maker of 4-wheel-drive vehicles.

Feature by feature, both lines are designed to give you everything you want in a truck—

—Lower weight for operating economy : : gross vehicle weights of 4,700 to 5,300 lbs. with nominal payloads of 3/4 to 1 ton.

—The gas-thrifty Willys-Overland "Jeep" Engine, world-famous for long life and low upkeep.

—Functional bodies, protected lights, extra-wide hood, comfortable cab.
